

Values Education

This term we started the week by considering how:

You can accept that people have different opinions from you, and that, although it may not end in agreement, they may have good reason to hold those opinions

and

If you put aside your point of view, and try to see things from the other person's point of view, you may realise that in certain situations, other people are not being unkind, they're probably just reacting to a situation, with the experience and knowledge they hold.

A Christian understanding

When Jesus travelled around teaching and healing people he had an understanding for all the crowds he encountered. He understood that they were lost and looking for someone to guide them - just like sheep needing a shepherd.
